THE ZOGRAF COPY OF SYMEON'S MISCELLANY

(Summary)

This article discusses some palaeographic and textological features of a newly discovered copy of Symeon's Miscellany. The copy is kept in the library of the Zograf Monastery on Mount Athos. It was discovered in 1979 by E. Weiher. The copy is not dated and has no beginning but it is in a good state. It is supposed that this copy was made in the late 16th c. in Southwestern Russia. It belongs to the group of the so-called "defective" copies. The article contains also a comparative description of the Zograf copy and the Miscellany of 1073.
